Debate

Should the international community arrest Sudan's President Omar al-Bashir for war crimes and crimes against humanity?

UNSA is presenting international politics in a way you have not seen before...

We will be presenting an academic debate with post-graduates from both POLSIS and the Asia Pacific Centre For the Responsibility to Protect addressing the key reasons, both for and against, arresting Sudan's President for war crimes and crimes against humanity.

If you want to explore the ethics, obligations and consequences of international law, then this is an event you should not miss.

Where: Building 69, Room 110

When: 1pm Friday 14th August

Cost: Free!
